

Authentically Home

Home, garden, and lifestyle in unison in a home involves the harmonious functioning of all parts together.

This renovated and extended Rutherglen home feels, authentically home. Your first impressions will be the visually satisfying balance between the old and the new.

Large front windows make the absolute most of the northerly aspect whilst providing a delightful view to the street and green spaces beyond.

Features include a new ducted evaporative air conditioner, ducted natural gas heating, split system air conditioning, polished Murray pine timber floorboards and recently installed plantation shutters to the front of the home
